DETAILED ACTION

Examiner's Comments

1. This action is in response to applicant's amendment received 10/31/2008. The pending claims are now 2-8.
2. The Examiner notes that the office action below may reference support found in the cited prior art by indicating element numbers, figures or by pointing out a specific paragraph (PAR) number in which support can be found. The PAR number referenced corresponds to paragraph number beginning in the "Detailed Description" of the disclosure unless otherwise noted.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 2-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US 4,728,020 to Green et al. Green et al shows the same apparatus for applying surgical fasteners.

With respect to claims 2 and 8, an elongate member (100) defining a longitudinal axis (102), a staple storage portion (280) attached to a distal portion of the elongate member and being movable between two positions with respect to the longitudinal axis defined by the elongate member, a control member capable of rotating the elongate member about the longitudinal axis (lock ring 190, fig. 1, i.e. 190 controls whether shaft member 100 can rotate between a plurality of positions about axis 102), an advancing mechanism (70) capable of advancing surgical fasteners through the staple storage portion and an anvil (290).

With respect to claim 3, the apparatus having a frame and handle assembly (20, fig. 1), the assembly has a stationary member and a pivotal member (70).

Art Unit: 3721

With respect to claims 4 and 5, the apparatus of Green et al discharges surgical fasteners when the handle member (70) is squeezed by an operator, i.e. pivotal member pivots between positions. The Examiner further notes that handle member can be partially pivoted or fully pivoted, i.e. moved from a first to a second position.

With respect to claims 6 and 7, the staple storage portion (280) includes a staple cartridge (210) removably attached to the staple support member.

Response to Arguments

5. In re claim 2, applicant's arguments filed 10/31/2008 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant contends, inter alia, that Green does not perform the same function as the claimed invention. Examiner acknowledges applicant's position; however, a reference is deemed to properly anticipate a claim when all the recited limitations are disclosed therein. In this instance, Green shows all the recited structural limitations including a control member (lock ring 190) that can be moved between a first and second position (unlocked and locked position) and that moving the control member (i.e. an operator grasping the device by the control member 190) can rotate the end effector (i.e. the staple storage portion) about the longitudinal axis. While it is noted that the device of Green may not perform the same function or in the same manner as applicant's invention, it is deemed that the claims are not restrictive to such device. Specifically, movement of the staple storage portion and/or rotation of the staple storage portion about the longitudinal axis has not been claimed as with respect to the proximal (handle portion) end of the stapler and therefore rotation of the entire stapler about the longitudinal axis anticipates the claim. For the reasons above, the grounds for rejection are deemed proper.

Conclusion

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
